

	Genre	Author	Main features	Further details about the novel
Gulliver's travels	Utopian fiction	Jonathan Swift	It shows imaginary worlds or nations as a counterpart to actual imperfect societies.	Includes 'real' geography and precise, objective details.
Robinson Crusoe	Realistic novel	Daniel Defoe	Records the protagonist's experiences from year to year.	Reflects a concern for space as a geographical entity.
Pamela	Epistolary novel	Samuel Richardson	- Exchange of letters between several correspondents (multiple point of view). - Psychological analysis.	Description of interiors.
Tom Jones	Picaresque novel	Henry Fielding	It deals with the adventures of a young, reckless hero on the road.	The protagonist's adventures are part of a process of growing up.